First Analysis acted as the Exclusive Financial Advisor to Mirixa in its sale to Cardinal Health

CHICAGO – January 10, 2019 – First Analysis acted as the exclusive financial advisor in the sale of Mirixa, a leading healthcare technology and services company specializing in medication therapy management (MTM). First Analysis provided advisory expertise to Mirixa throughout the transaction, including preparation, positioning, investor coordination and contact, due diligence and negotiation.

The purchase was made by Cardinal Health Inc. This purchase will enable the combined company to grow market share, accelerate product development and expand services and support for existing and new clients.

“From the first meeting, it was clear that First Analysis’s in-depth knowledge of the healthcare technology space would be invaluable in helping to maximize our return,” said Frank Harvey, CEO of Mirixa. “Every member of the team surpassed our expectations and were instrumental in not only identifying the appropriate target acquirers but also in helping to work through road blocks that emerged during the deal process.”

Headquartered in Reston, VA, Mirixa is the leading provider of medication therapy management software solutions. The Company’s solution and large pharmacy footprint enable its customers to successfully engage patients, manage chronic conditions, and improve adherence and clinical outcomes while reducing health care costs.
